The theme of Art Readings 2021, New Art module Annual International Conference organised by the Institute of Art Studies, BAS, will be Personalia. The conference offers an opportunity to explore a wide range of topics relating to the significance of personality and personality's ideological and conceptual, creative and social role in art, literature, culture and the sciences of spirit. In this context, tracing the lives and creative activities of key figures in different arts is but one of many viewpoints on the proposed theme. The organisers seek to attract experts in art history, history and theory of architecture, musicology, theatre studies, film studies, culturology and the humanities, who would present papers on various aspects of the proposed theme such as: the role a personality plays in art processes; personality in modern and post-modern art; the individual as a subject of arts; personality in arts in the digital age; personalities in the artists' social midst: inspirers, patrons, opponents of artists; personality and art manifestos; personality in post-modern creative teams and networks; philosophical, sociological, spiritual and religious interpretations of personality in art, etc.
